

A stylized, colorful illustration of a cityscape. The background is a light blue sky with a single white cloud. In the foreground, there are several buildings: a grey building on the left, a tall orange building with vertical stripes in the center, a shorter orange building to its right, and a tall brown building on the far right with a green sign on top. A yellow and white striped vertical bar is positioned behind the central orange building. At the bottom, there are small green trees and a red triangular signpost.
